

Skill Assessment Self Test

The International Association of DentoFacial Esthetics Advanced Courses recommends that you attend a basic course before attending this program. Your answers to the questions below will indicate to you and to the IADE whether you are ready to take this course. These questions are solely to determine if our Advanced course is a good fit for your present level of education and experience.

If you have taken any other entry level Botox and dermal filler course outside of the International association of DentoFacial Esthetics (yes, even with another facial esthetics organization), please submit the answers to the required questions 1-7 to ann@dentox.com

1. Which basic course have you taken and were you satisfied with the education you received?
2. How much experience does your previous instructor have?
3. Approximately how many Botox procedures have you performed since taking that course?
4. Approximately how many dermal filler procedures have you performed since taking that course?
5. Which areas of the face do you currently treat with Botox – glabellar area, forehead, crow's feet, TMJ – masseter and temporalis, mentalis, smoker's lines, depressor anguli oris, levator labii superiorus?
6. Which areas of the face do you currently treat with dermal fillers – nasolabial folds, lips, corners of mouth, mentalis?
7. Have these services become a routine part of your practice?
8. Have you done combination cases of Botox and dermal fillers together?

Self test questions - these are not required but are a good self test to see if you are ready to take our Level II course

1. What are the four most common adverse reactions with Botox treatment? How are they treated?
2. What are the four most common adverse reactions with dermal filler treatment? How are they treated?
3. What is a vascular occlusion and how would it happen with dermal filler treatment? What vein or artery might be occluded and where is it anatomically? What are the possible mild to severe consequences of a vascular occlusion?
4. How would you treat a vascular occlusion that was caused by dermal filler treatment, both short term and long term?
5. Name the muscle that would be treated with Botox that could raise the corner of the lips and where would you inject it?
6. After a Botox treatment, if your patient comes in with eyebrows that peak at their lateral borders, what muscles would you inject to correct this common injector error?

If you are unsure of or do not know some of the answers to the questions above, you may want to consider taking our basic Botox and dermal filler course even if you have had previous experience with Botox and dermal fillers. We look forward to your responses.
